GREAT CARNIVAL OF BARGAINS PLANNED BY MERCHANTS

The first formal steps looking to the holding of a three-day clearance sale, to be taken part in by the merchants of Santa Ana, were taken at a meeting of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association last night, when Secretary J. C. Metzgar was authorized to appoint a committee to make investigations and to lay preliminary plans for the sale.

The M. and M. members present at last night's meeting were enthusiastic over the proposed three-day clearance sale, the object of which will be to get people from all parts of the county to come to Santa Ana and to take advantage of bargain "leaders" advertised.

Hundreds of bargains will be put on sale by the local merchants. It is assumed that sufficient and striking bargains will be offered to make it worth while for hundreds of shoppers to visit Santa Ana.

Santa Ana's Three-day Clearance Sale will be fashioned somewhat after Dollar Day and Bargain Day, held in previous years. The only difference will be that the three-day carnival of bargains will be more elaborate than anything of like nature ever before attempted here.

Secretary Metzgar has appointed the following committee: W. N. Vandermast, P. C. Beiswenger, J. C. Horton, H. P. Rankin, C. S. Kendall.

To Enter Parade
The directors decided to enter the Fiesta de Luz parade on the evening of June 15.

It was recommended that Santa Ana launch a "swat-the-fly" campaign. A committee consisting of E. A. White, chairman, and Fred Fuller and J. C. Metzgar was appointed to aid in the movement of slaughtering the insects. Those present at the meeting were President C. H. Chapman, Secretary Metzgar, F. W. Weissman, D. R. Cook, James S. Smart and E. A. White.

RUSS OFFENSIVE DAILY GROWING MORE INTENSE

LONDON, June 7.—Forty thousand Austrians have been captured in the Russians' offensive, Petrograd officially announced today.

LONDON, June 7.—The interests of military critics in Europe are now centered on the armies of the Czar. The Russian offensive, which has now been in operation for a week, is each day growing more intense, according to the official announcements from Petrograd. Nearly 30,000 prisoners have been taken, and many guns and supplies captured.

The czar's army of a million men is facing half a million Austrians, it is estimated.

TREACHERY HINT IN DEATH OF KITCHENER

LONDON, June 7.—A marked stimulus in enlistments featured the last day of recruiting under the volunteer system.

A general demand for the internment of all enemy aliens in Great Britain, regardless of sex, age or naturalization, is one of the immediate results of Lord Kitchener's death.

Sir William Robertson and David Lloyd-George are considered possible successors to Kitchener.

A political struggle seems to be looming.

The demands for internment are the result of a nation-wide belief that the Germans knew the exact movements of Kitchener and there are hints of treachery.

OPENING GUNS BOOM FOR AMERICANISM AT G. O. P. CONCLAVE

Verbal Volleys Loosed in Harding Key Address

We did not do very well in making for harmony the last time we met. The country has regretted, let us forget—and make amends to our country.

We ought to be as prepared for defense as Washington urged amid anxieties of our national beginning, and Grant confirmed amid the calm reflections of union restored.

Out of the convictions and judgment and wisdom as expressed by the majority will come the sacred and sincere covenant of the Republican party. No party can endure which is not progressive.

The world had heard the voice of American fearlessness, and all the conditions single us out for leadership among the neutral powers, but the administration at Washington spoke with more rhetoric than resolution, and we came to realize what the warring powers soon came to know, that the official American voice lacked the volume of determined expression that once demanded international heed, and we lacked the strength of confidence in our own defenses.

The intelligent voters believe that the protective policy which made us industrially and commercially eminent is necessary to preserve that eminence. I know they want it restored and maintained. We want the world measurements raised to our heights. Until it is done we shall cling to American wages for American workmen, American markets for American products, and hold the Republican guaranty of our material good fortune.

The spirit of the fathers is calling, and the safety of unborn Americans is demanding and the security of the republic is requiring that now and here and everywhere, under the Stars and Stripes, we proclaim a plain, simple, glad and unalterable Americanism. It must be the offering of loyalty and devotion and love and trust, and life, if need be, to these United States, now and everlastingly.

Holding to the ideals of just American rights, the government must protect those rights, at home, on our borders, on the seas, in every land and under every sky.

We need only to preserve and defend, and go unflinchingly on. Power is the guarantor of peace and conscience the buckler of everlasting right. Verily, it is good to be an American. And we may rejoice to be Republicans.

Following is the address of Temporary Chairman Warren G. Harding, delivered before the Republican National Convention at the Coliseum, Chicago, today:

Gentlemen of the Convention:
It is good to greet this representative body of that American Republicanism on which is centered the high hopes of the republic. I can believe—nay, I know—that a vast majority of the people of our United States is expecting the party sponsors here assembled to write anew the sacred covenant of Republicanism, and reconsecrate the party to the nation's service and the people's advancement. That same majority expects you to select a standard-bearer who shall not only typify our expression of faith but shall so enlist the confidence and trust of our American citizenship that the work of this convention will be confirmed overwhelmingly at the ballot box next November.

The country, wearied afresh by a disappointing and distressing Democratic administration, is calling for Republican relief, and there is every inspiration, every encouragement, every confidence that the light of Republican conscience, set aflame in this convention, will illumine the way to the country's restoration.

LET US FORGET 1912
We did not do very well in making for harmony the last time we met. The country has regretted, let us forget—and make amends to our country. We did not divide over a national policy. We split over methods of party procedure and preferred personalities. Let us forget the differences, and find new inspiration and new compensation in an united endeavor to restore the country.

The essential principles of Republicanism are unchanged and unchanging; the lofty intent, the indestructible soul and the undying spirit of Republicanism are as dominant today as in the destined beginning sixty years ago, or at any time during the intervening years, and they are emphasized today by the proof recorded to Republican credit in the matchless chapters of American progress.

Principles Are Abiding
No political party ever was built or ever can build permanently except in conscientious devotion to abiding principles. Time never alters a fundamental truth. Conditions do change, popular interest is self-asserting, and "paramounting" has its perils, as the Democratic party will bear witness, but the essentials of constructive government and attending progress are abiding and unchanging. For example, we ought to be as genuinely American today as when the founding fathers flung their immortal defiance in the face of old-world oppressions and dedicated a new republic to liberty and justice.

We ought to be as prepared for defense as Washington urged amid the anxieties of our national beginning, and Grant confirmed amid the calm reflections of union restored.

Party Solidarity
It is not my understanding that the remarks of the temporary chairman are to be taken as an expression of the party faith. Such expression must come from this convention, made up of delegates who believe in popular, representative government through the agency of political parties. You come directly from the people, commissioned to speak their hopes and aspirations, to utter their patriotic desires and pledge their abiding faith.

Out of the convictions and judgment and wisdom as expressed by the majority will come the sacred and sincere covenant of the Republican party.

We are a voluntary organization and must find our strength in the enlistment of volunteers who find the nearest or best expression of their individual convictions in our party declarations, and there can be no treason in withdrawal if our declarations fall short in their appeal. But I am old-fashioned enough to believe that in popular government party success and party capacity for service to the nation must lie in making the will of a righteous majority the willing pledge of all.

No Forswearing Required

Gentlemen of the convention, the first and foremost wish in my mind is to say that which will contribute to harmony of effort and add to the assurance of victory next November. I wish that because we believe Republican success to be for the best interests of our common country. The allied hosts of the believers in Republican principles are in a vast majority in this country—when the banners of harmony are unfurled. We have witnessed the come back of our party in various states. We have seen the re-enlistment of those who believe in Republican doctrines, and victory has followed and rejoicing has attended. No apology has been asked, no forswearing required. This is not the time for recrimination, it is the day of reconsecration.

Rededicating here and now the Republican party to the progress and glory of the republic, let us bury party prefixes with the administration which our differences put in power. I do not believe there is a really reactionary Republican bearing credentials to this convention. If there is, he will depart, after our deliberations, solely and proudly a Republican, with heart aglow with the party spirit of 1916.

And the welcome delegate who emphasizes his progressivism, is expected to do his part in making our party a reflex of the best thought and best intent of sincere commitment to the uplift and progress of the American people, thereby strengthening party purpose instead of magnifying individual belief, and he too, will find new rejoicing in being a Republican.

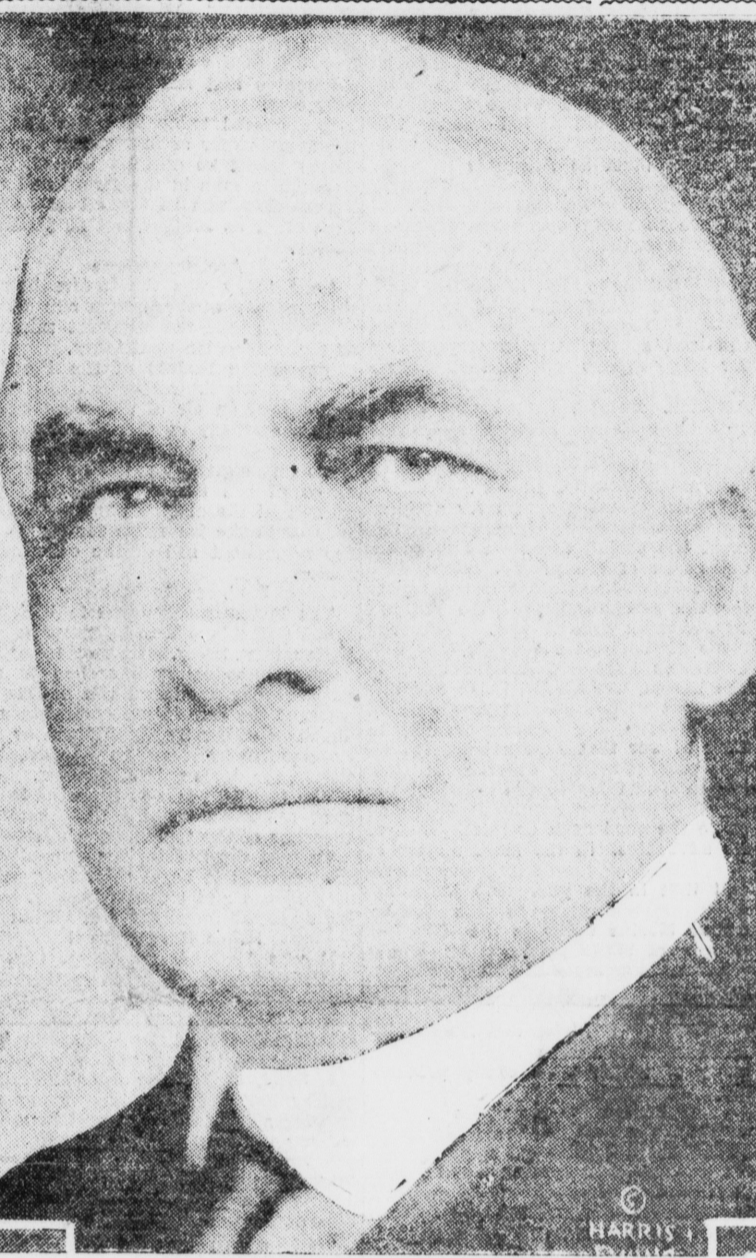

NO PARTY CAN ENDURE WHICH IS NOT PROGRESSIVE

I know the Republican party is genuinely progressive as well as effective, else it would not rivet the expectations of the American people today on the most important convention held since the party formulated a new political decalogue and gave to union and nationality the immortal Abraham Lincoln.

Representative Government

In building the surpassing temple of the Republic, which we have been doing to the astonishment, sometimes the envy, sometimes the admiration of the world, and oftentimes inspiring others by our example, there ever will be modifications to meet the public need and conform to popular ideals. We do not fear to imitate nor fail to originate, but there can be no discord about underlying foundations or essential walls or

HERE is the latest photograph of Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio, temporary chairman of the Republican National Convention. His address before the convocate today embodied Americanism, preparedness and harmony. Senator Harding's frankness and outspokenness have made him many friends, personally, among Senators who disagree with him on every proposition before the body. Harding is 51 years old; has a common and academic education, and has wrestled with all kinds of newspapering, from country editing up. He served in the Ohio State Senate from 1899 to 1903 and has been active in Ohio politics ever since.

PROTECT, GUARD GOVERNMENT, RULING PROBLEM, PROGRESSIVE CONVENTION TOLD BY CHAIRMAN

The address of Raymond Robins as temporary chairman of the Progressive National convention today began as follows:

"Times of stress and ferment bring tribulation to the weak and opportunity to the strong. The souls of timid men are vexed and the hearts of the valiant are uplifted. Four years ago brave deeds were done in Chicago. From every section of this country there gathered here men of leadership and character regarding the ties and associations of a lifetime, even of generations, willing to sacrifice power and influence and friendships, the profit of lives of industry and honor in order that they might unite their fellows in spirit to bring a new force, a new impulse, a new hope into American politics. They enlisted for public service behind the bravest and wisest leader of the people in our time, behind the foremost private citizen of the world—Theodore Roosevelt."

NEW ERA IN STRUGGLE
"In 1912 in this nation we entered upon the fight for freedom, self-government and justice for the community as well as for each man. We began to see what our leader put in a phrase when he said, 'We all go up or down together.' We began to see that when we legislate one man so free that under that law he can hold ten thousand men in economic slavery; community freedom, self-government and justice do not exist. And when we so legislate that the price of freedom and power and wealth to the individual shall be service and obligation and responsibility to the state, we shall write in law once more the winning of the battle that must be fought in every phase of civilization."

Saying that in 1912 we "sounded forth a trumpet that shall never call retreat," the chairman continued:

Protection Main Problem
"The need of Progressive thought and leadership and courage is ever greater in America today than it was in 1912. What is our dominant problem today? To protect and preserve our government. Can the people be aroused to protect and preserve a government which is not of and for all the people? With what slogan shall the ruthless and the selfish individualist rally a thinking people? Shall it be, 'Arm to defend my happiness?' It is only the great common heritage of America that the common people will find worthy of defense. With what slogan shall the hyphenates rally a cosmopolitan people? Shall it be, 'Arm to defend the traditions of my father's native land?' It is only the traditions of America, the melting pot of a hundred nations, that the children of a hundred nations will find worthy of defense."

CRITICAL HOUR

"In this critical hour of our history only men who have the vision of a nation that shall be truly great, as well as powerful and wealthy, can speak for all the people," the speaker said.

"Through all these weary months there has been one great voice steadily, courageously, without a shade of compromise, without a note of indecision, calling upon our people to reject the counsels of division and rally to the one common cause of America. It was not strange that this was the voice of our leader of 1912. It was not strange that he spoke out when lesser statesmen feared to whisper, uncertain as they were alike of their own convictions and of the feelings of the crowd. It is not strange that we who followed him four years ago muster once again in answer to his brave and faithful call."

To Meet Practical Needs

"We gather to determine our program to meet the practical needs for national action in this time of havoc and horror in other lands. And it is well that we should approach our task with the vision of a better day. We may well resolve that no worse day, with havoc and horror in our midst, shall be known to us or to the coming generations and that we shall wisely plan to preserve in peace our great inheritance."

"In 1912 we drafted a covenant with the people, a program for dealing with our pressing domestic problems, a document so distinguished from ordinary party platforms in its purpose, its sincerity and its far-sighted policy that it is a milestone in American politics."

Equalize Burdens

"In our domestic problems we sought to equalize the burdens and benefits of government. We sought to increase the benefits of government for the wage earner, the small business man and the farmer, those whose

15,000 Cheer Harding As He Brings Up Defense Issues In His Speech

COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 7.—Under the handicap of the drag of a dull, dreary day, the Republican National Convention got under way today. The weather plainly got on the nerves of the delegates.

Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio, reputed to be one of the handsomest men in the Senate, drew the first hall-racking response when he warmed up on the defense issues.

Then 15,000 forgot their colds and sniffles, wet feet and damp clothes, and sprang to their feet and cheered as the temporary chairman concluded.

The Republicans convened without any sign of any sort pointing to the candidate they will select.

It still Hughes, Roosevelt, Burton, Fairbanks and the rest, with nobody knowing exactly what will happen.

Gavel Falls at 11:28
At 11:28 a. m. the gavel fell, Chairman Hillis having but little trouble in getting order. He said:

"This is a year when politics is patriotism, and patriotism is politics, therefore the audience will please sing 'America.'"

Following the singing, Rev. John Timothy Stone, of Chicago, offered a prayer, pleading for "no hasty nor ill spoken word."

Secretary Reynolds next read the official call of the convention. This was greeted by good natured applause, as Reynolds had stage fright.

Harding Presented

Chairman Hillis then presented Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio as the nominee for temporary chairman. The senator was named by acclamation and he began his speech at 11:47 a. m., saying, after his introduction:

"We did not do very well in making for harmony the last time we met. The country has regretted, let us forget—and make amends to our country. We did not divide over fundamental principles, we did not disagree over a national policy. We split over methods of party procedure and preferred personalities. * * * No party can endure which is not progressive."

Flays Administration

Senator Harding flayed the Wilson administration, concluding with, "everything is abnormal except the depleted condition of the treasury."

The first prolonged cheering occurred when Harding declared for a "navy that fears none in the world."

A motion for the state delegation to appoint a committee of credentials and resolutions was adopted at 1:20 p. m.

Many Gestures by Speaker

Senator Harding averaged forty emphatic arm gestures and seven risings to the heels to the minute. He mopped his brow on an average of one time every three minutes.

He stumbled once in fifteen minutes. His favorite gesture was to raise his right hand above his head, trembling it there, his voice vibrating like a huge foghorn.

Victor Rosewater of Nebraska, "coal boy" and "assistant wiper" in the 1912 steam roller, sat among the scullions of the press as a mere reporter.

"Down a Hole"

The national committee secretary, James B. Reynolds, read the convention call by sections, designating them a "first, second, third," etc., but for all anyone could or wanted to hear he might as well have been talking down a hole.

Governor Frank B. Willis of Ohio sat under the gavel, chewing gum avidly.

Smoot Elected
Senator Smoot of Utah was elected chairman of the Republican credentials committee.

The convention adjourned at 1:38 p. m. until 11 a. m. tomorrow.

Senator Lodge was elected chairman of the Republican resolutions committee. Charles F. Scott of Kansas was elected secretary of resolutions. The committee upon which Lodge was appointed was authorized to appoint a sub-committee of nine to draft a platform. The convention

AUDITORIUM, Chicago, June 7.—The Bull Moose National Convention adjourned until 2 p. m. tomorrow. Committees on resolutions, credentials and rules will meet tonight. Permanent organizations will be effected tomorrow. Conservative Bull Moosers were hopeful this afternoon that they might force Roosevelt upon the regular Republican party. Robins finished his speech at 3:26 p. m.

AUDITORIUM, Chicago, June 7.—All records were broken when a thundering demonstration started at the mention of Roosevelt's name at the Progressive convention. For one hour and thirty four minutes there were deafening riots while the delegates paraded the hall.

AUDITORIUM, Chicago, June 7.—Chairman Victor Murdock of Kansas, called the Progressive convention to order at 12:27, quieting a roar of college yells and Roosevelt songs.

"If Teddy were president, where would Villa be?" said the banner of the New Mexico delegation.

Oscar Strauss of the New York delegation was rousing cheered.

Raymond Robins, temporary chairman, was introduced by Murdock, who referred to the Progressives as "Christian soldiers."

A Roosevelt demonstration started immediately following the opening of Robins' speech.

T. R. Gets Ovation

The delegates cheered and jumped up and down and waved everything they could find, banners, etc., when Robins named Roosevelt as the "greatest leader of his time," one minute after he had started speaking.

The huge assemblage seemed to go mad.

Delegates seized a big banner and carried it to the stage. Pennsylvania led, followed by California and many others were in line.

Within the week practically all the state delegation standards have been planted on the speaker's stand, in a vari-colored cluster.

Thundering Riot

As the demonstration proceeded the riotous mob cheering, the delegates crushed so closely about Robins and Murdock that the two were completely lost sight of.

Drums beat, Moose horn tooted and everybody yelled with a veritable bedlam of sound.

All were primed and ready for the start after days of waiting.

The entire crowd sang "We Want Teddy," until the arches of the auditorium cracked under the volume of sound. Finally the crowd got tired of singing it and yelled it. The band played all the patriotic songs it knew and started to repeat them. Robins let the crowd have its head, making no demonstration to stop the confusion.

As dozens of delegates marched past the platform in single file, Perkins climbed on a table above the crowd and held an impromptu reception.

The demonstration had been on for twenty-three minutes and was dying down and then the band started playing "Onward Christian Soldiers," the battle song of the Progressives. With a tremendous roar the demonstration was reborn.

Some of the more enthusiastic attempted to stampede and march to the Coliseum while the boom was at its height, but Perkins and Murdock prevented it.

"Some fellows who have been pussy-footing around here will take notice of this demonstration," said Hiram W. Johnson.

A futile attempt was made with the gavel to quiet the throng after forty minutes.

Ready For War or Peace

The "Bull Moose" herds tramped through rain and gloom to their second national convention, ready for war or peace at their own terms with the G. O. P. The fireworks were expected to start the instant Roosevelt should be mentioned.

The conservatives planned to make a fight to prevent any nomination before Friday.

Robins' keynote speech, organization and the assignment of committees were the only events of the Progressive gathering today.

T. R. Directs Platform
CHICAGO, June 7.—Every preparedness and Americanism plank which Theodore Roosevelt espoused in the last year is to be included, along with the woman suffrage and labor planks in the platform of the Progressives.

William Allen White of the Progressive resolution committee, of Kansas, and Dean Walter Lewis of the Department of Law of the University of Pennsylvania, today completed the preliminary draft of the platform, largely under the direction of Roosevelt.

Many planks are expected to be introduced on the floor and considerable debate is expected.

"Moose" Platform
The Progressive platform is for preparedness to be attained by means of a great navy and universal service; Americanism; a strong foreign policy; improvement of labor conditions; the extension of the initiative and referendum; the advocacy of more liberal changes in the constitution; a tariff commission; and a merchant marine.

Many Women Present
The balconies were well filled. Many of the spectators were women, among them Mrs. Mary Satterwhite of Los Angeles.

Clifford Pinchot, leading the Pennsylvania delegation, said that up to the present no compromise candidate had been presented by the Progressives or by the Republicans and that so far as he was concerned, he thought Roosevelt was the only man.

Murdoch, after forty-five minutes took the gavel and tried to hammer the crowd into silence. At 2:22 p. m. Perkins sent a number of New York delegates through the crowd, instructing the various leaders to stop the demonstration and allow Robins to finish his speech. Murdoch paced the platform pleading with the delegates to be silent. The Maryland delegation tried a "Teddy and Prohibition" speech. Somebody hit the speaker in the face with a wad of programs. Finally the crowd quieted and Robins resumed his speech.

T. R. Late in Learning
OYSTER BAY, June 7.—Despite the fact that Roosevelt's private telephone line was connecting him direct with Chicago, he did not hear of the tremendous demonstration until it was more than an hour old.

Conclave Events in Brief; What Happened Today

Temporary Chairman Warren G. Harding of Ohio makes keynote speech.

Resolutions committee begins open hearings on the platform. Senator William E. Borah announces his withdrawal from the presidential race.

The allied opposition claims three times the number of votes that Hughes has.

Hitchcock claims for Hughes more than the total of favorite sons' votes.

Informal details of negotiations are still pending between Progressives and Republicans.

Convention meets at noon.

Temporary Chairman Raymond Robins of Chicago delivers keynote address.

Committees are assigned.

The convention adjourns until Thursday.

adopted the rules of the 1908 convention.

Uncle Joe There
Uncle Joe Cannon, sans his cigar, sans his campaign hat, sans cuss words and sans everything by which he is ordinarily recognized, sat on the platform with the national committee.

Chauncey Depew sat among his "mutton chops" and the New York delegation with his mouth open.

Nobody realized how baldheaded the convention is until it sat down, when it formed a pink carpet over the floor of the Coliseum.

Dupont Quits
CHICAGO, June 7.—The withdrawal of T. Coleman Dupont, favorite son of Delaware, for the Republican nomination was forecasted following the failure of the Delaware delegation to elect Dupont as national committeeman.

Ex-Governor S. S. Pennewell was chosen chairman.

Day Gloomy
A gloomy, rainy day marked the opening of the convention.

It is seldom that 15,000 people have met in such fashion at the Coliseum.

In the interior of the huge hall was a small of rubber coats, soaked umbrellas and winter clothing. Gaudy ribbons which once were badges had curled up and the colors ran. Gaudy bunting was soaked and sagged.

The principal topics in the huge roar of conversation over the great hall were Roosevelt and Hughes. The roar was shattered now and then by yells for some favorite son, or by greetings to some delegate.

Harmony Forecast
Following a telephone conversation with Roosevelt, Geo. W. Perkins issued this statement:

"I am well satisfied with the situation as it stands. I believe a fine atmosphere exists. The proper spirit has been created for the best results of both conventions."

A few minutes later Hiram Johnson said:

"I believe that whatever Roosevelt desires will be done."

Universal Service, Plank
Unless a majority of the resolutions committee turns down resolutions of Senators Borah and Lodge, who are expected to be dominant figures, the Republican platform is expected to include a flat declaration for universal military training, to which the favor sons are expected to furnish the strongest opposition.

PROTECT. GUARD GOVERNMENT. IS BIG PROBLEM

productive activities carry the greater part of the nation's burdens—to shift some of this burden to the shoulders of those who derive the greater benefits of the government, the protection and security of large properties. Today we must provide adequately for the defense of our nation against foreign aggression. This calls for money and men, and if we would act as a great republic—a government of all the people—we must strive to equalize the burdens and benefits of this preparedness.

Make U. S. Worthy of Defense
"We are rightly told that we are not worthy of self-government unless we are able and willing to defend that government. Let us also see to it that our government is worthy of our defense."

"We want no military caste in this republic. We will have none if each man serves his training time and then returns to civil life—better physically and with a better understanding of the facts of war. We need have no fear of war being brought on needlessly in a nation where the entire voting population knows what war means to modern men."

Must Be Adequate
"But modern warfare is not merely a matter of armament and men. If we are to make our preparedness a peace insurance, it must be adequate. We must organize the vast resources of the nation so that in sudden need, without a costly period of industrial chaos, the equipment, the munitions, the food supply and transportation for large armies will be immediately at the service of the government."

America, trained, armed and ready, will be a nation practically assured of peace. America, unarmed, untrained or unready, will be a nation practically assured of war.

"A competent program for national preparedness must comprehend and meet the social, economic and spiritual needs of the people. Mere military preparedness alone is inadequate for the safeguarding of the nation's life, even in time of war. The final issue of the titanic struggle that now convulses Europe will be decided in the homes, workshops, fields and laboratories of the peoples now at war. Any program for national security in time of war that does not involve social and economic security in time of peace is false to the needs of the nation's life, and arouses suspicion as to the good faith or intelligence of its advocates. In the mere matter of physical fitness alone it is well to recall that in the year 1915 there applied for enlistment in the United States Marine Corps in the City of New York 11,012 persons, of whom 10,696 were rejected as being physically incompetent. In this same Empire State of the Republic, in the year 1915 there were recorded 225,000 injuries, due to industrial accidents, many of which were easily preventable."

Reorganize Industries
"Nor is industrial preparedness of immediate necessity for military defense alone, for it will provide that organization of our industry required for our future commercial prosperity. When the war is over, we shall face the most effective industrial competition that the world has ever known. To meet these new economic weapons in the markets of the world American industry must undergo complete reorganization."

"The Progressives stand for Americanism and preparedness. They stand for an Americanism which is not qualified by differences in blood or birth or creed. They stand for preparedness of the body and of the spirit, industrial and social as well as military, with universal service for the defense of the nation."

U. S. Waits for Leader
"We don't want a president who is almost an American."

"The American people are waiting for the leader to be named here in Chicago. They want a leader whom they know and who speaks for them. They want firmness in our foreign affairs. They want certainty in stating and upholding the rights of American citizens. They want courage to announce a program and tenacity to fight it through."

"It is a call for a man who represents no favorite section, no favorite strain of blood, no favorite creed, no favored class of citizens, but who has the respect of men of every section, blood and creed and class. It is a call for a man who stands for principles and not for prejudices—for a man who has been tried and found true."

"It is a call that America shall give to her citizens and to other nations not the hazard of a new deal, but the solid, certain comfort of the old square deal."

"What great nations shall remain unspent when this war is ended?"

"Russia. Her one hundred and sixty millions of people, her vast natural resources of fertile lands, minerals and forests, will not be exhausted in this war. Russia will speak."

"Japan. Fifty-five millions of organized, efficient people, with an Oriental culture now dominated by the ideal of Caesar, dreaming of mastery in the Orient and ultimate world dominion—Japan will speak."

America Should Speak
"And finally, America. America, with her great spiritual heritage, her democratic soul, her free institutions, her ideals of service and peaceful progress through education, industry and commerce, freest, richest and most resourceful nation of the modern world—AMERICA SHOULD SPEAK."

"Let it be here written down that the free citizenship of the Nation of Washington and Lincoln meets this hour of national trial with a new consecration and that the faithful hearted men and women of America unite under the leadership of the foremost statesman of the modern world to vindicate the ideals of democracy—freedom for the individual, justice for the community, security for the nation and peace for all the world."

CHICAGO, June 7.—Jostling crowds on Michigan boulevard, the bare of bands, wriggling lines of densely packed humanity in hotel lobbies, be-rigged and be-badged visitors, and the buzz, buzz of talk—this was the opening day of the Republican and Progressive national conventions.

At least, these were the outward manifestations of the chosen few of two national parties meeting in solemn convocation to name a presidential ticket.

The Steam Roller
Four years ago the steam roller stalked its gargantuan way through Chicago's streets, down and through the Coliseum and back into the roundhouse of political history.

If the steam-roller hadn't performed, there would have been only one national convention today. But those who were squashed by the pancake-making wheels of the juggernaut arose, brushed off their dusted garments and assuaged their mangled bodies with the balm of a convention, candidates and machinery of their very own.

It appeared today that the bruises the steam-roller of four years ago inflicted might be entirely healed. The Republican man in the street and the Progressive man in the street hailed each other as brother, not as political enemy.

Acrimony Gone
Gone today was the before-the-battle acrimony of four years ago which centered about the smallest minutiae of the convention machinery.

Maybe the leaders of the Progressive and Republican gatherings still maintained an air of aloofness mixed with a curiosity as to what the other side was doing, but there wasn't nearly so much grim desperation in the chase of the Southern delegate, the pursuit of the elusive unpledged delegate or in the jockeying for places on the permanent roll of the convention roster.

Business Perfunctory
The business scheduled in both national gatherings is to be more or less perfunctory today. Calling to order, prayer, introductory speeches by the national chairmen and the setting to work of the convention committees is about all either the Republican or the Progressive leaders expect to accomplish in the day's public sessions.

The real fireworks is expected to begin tomorrow with the keynote speeches of the temporary chairmen.

Tonight the Resolutions Committees are expected to begin their long grind of hearings and closed sessions, leading up to the formulation of platforms.

Hilles Bangs Gavel
It was National Chairman Charles D. Hilles whose gavel banged to order the Republican convocation, on noon precisely. Hours before that minute the great galleries of the Coliseum had been packed to their utmost capacity.

A band, tucked far up above in a gallery tooted cheerfully away at the popular airs of the day and kept the waiting thousands in good humor.

CHAPMAN IS TO BUILD BIG NEW HOSTELRY AT FULLERTON

Closing of Deal Due to Angeleno's Belief Railways Will Build, Report

FULLERTON, June 7. — Rumors that the Pacific Electric Railway and the Salt Lake Route are about to build into Fullerton gained strength today when it became known that a Los Angeles hotel man, who declined to allow his identity to become known, yesterday completed arrangements whereby C. C. Chapman, upon his return from the Chicago convention, will immediately begin the construction of either a two-story or three-story hotel

A New Remedy for Kidney, Bladder & all Urine Troubles

Successfully Used by Many Physicians and Surgeons in Their Hospital Practice.

Dr. Weir Mitchell once said: "What we call diseases are only symptoms of conditions. Allow the man's vitality to be reduced to a certain point, and he is ripe for any of these weaknesses, or certain conditions which we call disease."

Thru failure of kidneys to act, thru congestion, inflammation, any person's condition is ripe for disease to fasten its hold upon the system.

At Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., there has been tested for the past few years a new remedy for kidney, bladder, urine acid troubles, rheumatism, gout, and such ailments as follow, and so many cases both acute and stubborn have yielded to this wonderful remedy that Doctor Pierce decided to name it "An-Uric," and arrange for its distribution to the public through medicine dealers everywhere.

If backache, scalding urine or frequent urination bother or distress you, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, gout, or sciatica, if you suspect that you have kidney or bladder trouble, write Doctor Pierce, at Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., send a sample of urine, and describe symptoms. A physician and chemist will examine it without charge and you will be under no obligation whatever. These "An-Uric" Tablets cannot fail to help you, because their action flushes the kidneys of impurities and puts strength into them.

Obtain a 50-cent box of these tablets to-day from your druggist here in town. From personal observation in large hospital practice, Doctor Pierce knows these tablets will give you speedy help if you are suffering from uric acid trouble, and to show his sincere faith this prescription is sold under a positive guarantee to any person who has taken a full box and has not been helped.

of fifty rooms, on North Spadra street, facing the Christian church.

It is stated that the mysterious Los Angeles man was convinced that the two railways are planning to extend their lines to Fullerton and his action in completing negotiations for the lease of the proposed hotel was based upon this belief.

The lot on Spadra street, where the hotel will be built, is a seventy-five-foot one.

It is stated that when Chapman returns from Chicago the Los Angeles man will sign a five-year lease for the proposed hotel and will pay three years' rent in advance.

The negotiations were made through the agency of George Cline, a Fullerton real estate man.

The Los Angeles man, it is stated, is confident that the entry of the railroads will result in great commercial strides for Fullerton.

BERKELEY STUDENTS VISIT LOCAL GROVES

Visiting various citrus and other groves in this county with the object of studying cultural methods, the Fourth Annual Summer Traveling Class of the University of California is registered at the Hotel Rossmore today. The class left Berkeley May 15 and visited a large number of orchards, packing houses and industries of an allied nature in various parts of the state. Among the groves visited in the county today were those of Sherman Stevens and C. E. Utt at Tustin; C. P. Taft, Orange; C. C. Chapman, Fullerton; J. B. Neff and Mr. Stewart, Anaheim. Those in the party are H. J. Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Stevens of Tustin; R. J. Starbuck of Fullerton, Prof. I. J. Condit, Berkeley; R. Bartholomew, Berkeley; H. E. Bradley, Sacramento; R. Ellis, Fallbrook; D. L. Kieffer, Berkeley; N. M. Linn, Cincinnati, O., and A. W. Stewart, Pasadena.

PUTS ALDRICH IN BANKRUPTCY

Investigation of Prado Postmaster's Disappearance Indicates He Was Not in Right Mind

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy against O. B. Aldrich, former postmaster at Prado, Riverside county, was filed in the United States District Court in Los Angeles yesterday by J. R. Newberry, who is a creditor to the extent of $2791.49; Newberry-Parker Company, with a bill for $811.19, and F. Bottiller, a creditor for $50.

It is alleged that Aldrich left the country on May 23, 1916, and took with him an automobile and a sum of money. Aldrich is alleged to be short in his accounts at the Prado postoffice to the extent of $1436.37. His wife is now in temporary charge of the office. Newberry-Parker Co. owned the store at Prado of which Aldrich was manager.

Aldrich's disappearance came as a decided shock to many residents of Santa Ana, where Aldrich and his family lived eight years ago. Nothing has been heard from him since he was seen going through Chino in an automobile on May 26.

Aldrich undoubtedly was suffering from some mental trouble. Investigations made since he disappeared have brought to light a number of transactions that a man in right senses would not undertake.

Aldrich's friends here firmly believed him to be honest, and they cannot believe that he, in his right mind, deliberately planned to become an embezzler.

SANTA ANA'S NET FIRE LOSS FOR LAST YEAR ONLY ?2758

ENTIRE DAMAGE DONE IN TWELVE MONTHS REACHES $10,741

Santa Ana's net fire loss for the year ending June 1, 1916, was only $2758.

During the year the total loss was $10,741.51, of which $7,983.51 was covered by insurance. Nearly twenty-five per cent of the total loss went in the destruction of the house at 723 South Main street.

Time and again during the year, the efficiency of the Santa Ana Fire Department, which has an excellent record, was demonstrated.

In the last year the department has had the use of two fully equipped, new automobile fire trucks.

During the year the firemen were called out twenty-six times. Fifteen calls found the services of the men needed, and eleven of the calls were false alarms. The secretary, George E. Peters, who resigned last night, reported that twelve of the calls occurred at night and fourteen in the daytime.

"While every fireman in Santa Ana," says the report, "who responds to an alarm of fire, takes his chances of getting injured on the way to the fire, it is with pleasure that I can report that no one sustained an injury of importance during the past year."

Peters Resigns

Members of the fire department heard with regret the resignation of George Peters as a member of the department. Upon his request he was made an honorary member of the company. The fact that he retires from active service does not mean that he has lost interest. The chances are that he will show up at fires as he always has. Upon his request the gong that is installed at his residence was ordered left there.

At the annual meeting last night refreshments of pineapple pie and ice cream were served the members by Mrs. Peters and her daughter, a feature of the evening that was much enjoyed by the firemen.

Officers Elected

The withdrawal of Peters as secretary-treasurer resulted in a readjustment of officers at the annual election last night. E. G. Glenn, who has been president of the department, was elected secretary-treasurer to succeed Peters, and E. E. Wood, who has been vice-president, was elected president. J. E. Livesey was named as vice-president to succeed Wood. W. M. Jackson was re-elected chief.

Chief Jackson appointed George F. Spangler as first assistant fire chief to succeed Peters. W. D. Willson and L. L. Vestal were appointed fire police. Other appointments will be made later.

The Fire Report

To the meeting last night Peters presented his annual report, showing in detail some of the main features of the twenty-six calls given the department during the last year. A comparison showed that in 1908 the department received 24 calls; 20 in 1909; 25 in 1910; 20 in 1911; 22 in 1912; 26 in 1913; 33 in 1914; 26 in 1915. From fourteen to twenty firemen responded to every call. The volunteer services cost the city $705. On three fires the department was out for over an hour.

The following, taken from the report, gives the date of each call, location, whether fire or false, damages, insurance paid, net loss:
June 6, 1915—925 West Pine, false, damages $6, insurance $5.

DRINK WATER TO AVOID SICKNESS SAYS AUTHORITY

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast Daily Keeps the Doctor Away

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphated hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.—Advertisement.

IMAGINARY LOCATIONS ADDED TO FIRE SIGNALS

Commencing with last night, the fire department is prepared to ring the bell and blow the whistle for nine imaginary fire boxes as well as for the twenty-six real fire boxes that are included in the city's fire alarm system. The signals for the imaginary locations will be blown when telephone calls come in within the radius of that location.

The fire alarm signals now in use follow:

- * 12 N. Main and Santa Clara.
- * 13 Bishop and S. Main.
- * 14 E. Chestnut and Orange.
- * 15 First and Main.
- * 16 E. First and Lacy.

PIONEER FIREMAN HAS FINISHED LONG RECORD OF SPLENDID SERVICE

placed upon the honorary list.

George Peters has helped fight hundreds of fires in Santa Ana. He was a real fire-fighter. He knew the perilous game from start to finish, and his fearlessness, good judgment and quick action were at all times a strength to the department that he has always most loyally served.

Since 1884 Peters was a member of the department continuously excepting for four years, 1886 to 1890. He was treasurer for twenty-four years, and for the last ten years he was its secretary. He has decided to let younger men take his place.

When Peters withdrew his membership last night, there left the department the last man who was a charter member of the fire department that organized on Dec. 18, 1884. At last night's meeting, Peters exhibited the original roll of the fire department, written in Judge George E. Freeman's handwriting. That list follows:

D. C. Lyon, Henry Jenson, C. F. McDowell, C. W. Potter, E. W. Straw, J. R. Coulee, H. F. Stafford, Adam Foster, C. E. Foreman, J. C. Jones, F. G. Ford, R. J. Andrews, John Bressler, Julius Reinhaus, John Tiller, James P. Browne, William Bush, R. C. Caudle, Ed. Waite, C. F. Rohrer, S. P. Sibley, Edgar Edwards, C. E. Grouard, J. W. Earhart, J. C. Ford, R. Simpson, J. R. Teague, S. M. Eathron, B. B. Greenleaf, John Sackman, W. H. Spurgeon, George Peters, George Schirm, George E. Freeman.

URGES SERUM GIVEN GUARDS

Co. L. Included In Circular Sent Out By Adjutant General of State

Following out a national campaign among militiamen, Adj. Gen. Charles W. Thomas yesterday issued a circular letter to commanders of all California militia companies urging that the officers and enlisted men be treated with anti-typhoid serum. This circular order is sent to Capt. J. L. McBride, in command of Company L of Santa Ana.

The guardsmen of almost every state are being treated with the serum, and no significance of possible field duty goes with the suggestion of the Adjutant General. The militia of the several states spend more or less time in camp in the summer and it is to prevent typhoid from polluted streams that the precaution is urged. In Los Angeles all members of the hospital corps and many of the men have had the treatment. As there is no danger of any after-effects from the serum, and the men are not forced to stop work and experience no other inconvenience, it is probable that all of the guardsmen will comply with the request.

KEYNOTE ADDRESS

A harmony that is based upon the fundamental principles of the Republican party and that recognizes that a party cannot endure that is not progressive, a preparedness that is fully adequate to protect the United States, a protective tariff that will give industry uniform encouragement, an expansion of the nation's business, a "plain, simple, glad and unalterable Americanism," a firm policy in our relations with Mexico, and a "straight ahead" policy in our relations with Europe—these are the features of the keynote address delivered at the Republican national convention by the temporary chairman, Warren G. Harding.

In Harding's hands was placed the duty of sounding to the people of America what they could expect in the way of a Republican platform. True, the convention is still to adopt a platform, but there is little likelihood that the platform will depart far from Harding's outline upon the matters dealt with by him.

In his address, Harding sounds the big notes. An examination of the address would indicate that he has avoided some of the features that are of consequence to the Progressive Party, which is also holding its national convention at Chicago. One might ask a dozen questions concerning things not said by the temporary chairman, and the conviction grows that the keynote speech in reality is a keynote speech only so far as it concerns the biggest things upon which the party must declare itself in its campaign this year, exclusive of the factional differences within the party.

A stronger defense, a stronger nationalism—upon these two matters of paramount interest, Chairman Harding announces the principles of the Republican party, announces in effect what we have all known must be the stand of the Republican party at Chicago. He has not undertaken to outline what the position of the Republican party will be upon some of the definite principles of the Progressive party.

In his address as temporary chairman of the Progressive national convention, Raymond Robins declares vigorously for Preparedness and Americanism, and in the same paragraphs declares for a program to meet the social, economic and spiritual needs of the American people.

While Chairman Harding's keynote address may not be fully satisfying to the Progressives, there is still no reason why the Republican platform shall not be made acceptable upon those points that the keynote speaker did not attempt to cover.

ENGINEER PENROD
MAKES REPORT ON
LIBERTY BELL MINE

Liberty Bell Gold Mines Co.,
Oatman, Arizona.
Mr. J. P. Greeley, Secretary,
Liberty Bell Gold Mines Co.,
Santa Ana, California.

Dear Sir:

I beg to submit herewith report covering the Liberty Bell Group of mining claims, situated in the Tom Reed Gold Mining District, Mojave County, Arizona, and what is more commonly known as the Oatman Mining District. Certain facts and conclusions arrived at by the writer, and presented for your consideration are based upon a careful personal examination of the ground, comprising the group of claims, as well as certain portions of adjoining properties, and other surrounding properties throughout the district.

In presenting this report, no attention is given to the matter of title and ownership, upon which you are fully advised. Only such considerations as have an economic bearing upon the property are here presented.

Location

The property comprising about 72 acres lies within less than two miles from the town of Oatman in a south-westerly direction, and is reached by a good wagon road with a gentle down grade from the town of Oatman, the local supply station. The property is admirably located in reference to the mineralized zone and proven mines of the district. It endlines the Oatman Pioneer Mining Company's ground on the northwest and in fact, the greater portion of your ground is traversed by this same Oatman Pioneer vein, one of which in the district is recognized as being one of the strongest and most persistent fissure veins in the district.

Facilities

The area covered by this group of claims is not excessively rugged or broken, but is accessible by wagon at most any point with comparatively no expense for road building, and there is no doubt that water in abundance will be encountered with depth on this property to supply all requirements for mining and milling.

Geology and Mineralogy

It is not the intention of the writer at this time to enter into a lengthy discussion of the geology of the district as it has been fully reported upon by many geologists and mining engineers and also by the United States Geological Survey, having issued bulletins covering it fully.

The geology of your group of claims is identical with the geology of the producing and proven mines in this district. The prevailing country rock is trachytic andesite locally known as chloritic green andesite, occurring both as intrusions and as flows.

The ore deposits occur in gold bearing fissure veins, in the green trachytic andesite.

The principal gold bearing vein herein previously called the Oatman Pioneer, passes through the greater portion of your claims, and is strong and persistent and readily followed. The gangue or vein filling consists of altered rock cemented by calcite and quartz.

Limonite and hematite are common as products of oxidation. The values are almost exclusively gold, which is very fine and can readily and cheaply be recovered by the cyanide process. Samples taken and assayed by the writer from various croppings and open cuts along the ledge gave results from 82c to $4.13 per ton across 4 feet in width of the ledge.

All of the veins so far observed in this district by the writer are accompanied by small veins which leave the main vein at an acute angle and strike off into the country rock.

In this respect the vein of the Liberty Bell is no exception, as two or more such veins were observed by the writer, but such veins are relatively unimportant. They may and very likely will produce some commercial ore near their junction with the main vein.

The physical conditions of this group are exceptionally favorable for development and subsequent reduction or the ores which may be opened. There is substantial reason to expect that such commercial ore will be obtained when the vein will be opened at depth.

Development

The depth needed to open the pay shoots will probably be under three hundred feet, and possibly not over two hundred feet. While rich quartz is often found at or near the surface the masses are small and irregular.

The development consists of several shafts on the property, the deepest one being 90 feet which was sunk on the vein for a prospect shaft. The new double-compartment shaft which lies about 75 feet north on a slight incline is being sunk for a permanent shaft which has now reached the depth of about 30 feet.

The formation that is being found in this shaft consists of andesite which is the usual capping to the ore bodies that exist in this district. This andesite has been encountered in the early developments of the Tom Reed, the United Eastern and several others of the main properties of the district.

Summary and Conclusions

This property contains all the mineral bearings formations of the paying mines of the district, the geological conditions being identical, and has within its boundaries one of the most persistent mineral bearing veins in the Oatman district. The economic conditions equal any property in the entire district.

After carefully considering all of the above facts, I feel warranted in saying, that the property as it now stands is a very promising one, and merits your earnest efforts to open and bring into production.

(Signed) W. A. PENROD,
Consulting Engineer.

Santa Ana, California.
June 1, 1916.

Report of W. A. Penrod, Assayer of Santa Ana, gives values of gold up to $4.13 per ton from surface and shallow shafts.

Report of Leonad D. Sivyer, Mining Geologist and Engineer of Los Angeles.

After spending three weeks on the property and making a complete report, Mr. Sivyer gives following result of his assays:

Eight assays taken from different shafts along the vein run from $1.65 to $16.95 per ton in gold values.

For further particulars apply to Geo. A. Edgar, J. P. Greeley or John W. Carlyle.

THE PLAY TONIGHT

Amusement lovers will be glad to stay in Tustin tonight and see the entertaining play to be given under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society in the school auditorium.

The play is entitled "The School Ma'am."

The young people have been working on the play for some time and no doubt all those who attend will be well repaid for going.

AT LAGUNA BEACH

The members of the choir of the Tustin Presbyterian Church had a delightful trip to Laguna Beach last Saturday afternoon. The party filled several automobiles.

A picnic supper was taken along, in addition to which there was a wienie bake. After an enjoyable ride, the picknickers pitched their tent and spread the supper on the beach near the tent city. Salad on lettuce leaves, potato chips, cream pie and coffee were some of the good things they had, and then the wienies were toasted on bamboo sticks, and marshmallows were toasted also.

This was followed by a general good time around the camp fire and a lovely ride home.

In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Charles White, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Overton, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Tingley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Rev. W. S. McDougal, Misses Dorothy Butterfield, Grace Hight, Hazel Bailey, Jessie Rawlings, Margaret Tingley, Irene Grisett, Gertrude Utt, Miss Le Fevre, Hubert Schenck, Lee Bailey and James Utt.

TUSTIN BASE BALL TEAM

The Tustin business men have presented a new base ball suit to each member of the Tustin baseball team.

The team played the first game in the new suits Sunday afternoon with the Huntington Beach team on the Huntington grounds. The score was 5 to 1 in favor of Tustin. The boys have played fine games and won eight of them.

W. C. T. U.

The Flower Mission meeting of the Tustin W. C. T. U. will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Miss Minnie C. Childs. The members are urged to attend and bring as many flowers as convenient.

AMUSEMENTS

At the West End

The atmosphere of warm flower-scented nights; of tinkling music; of deeds of daring to win a lady's glance; scenes of intense hate and strong passion are all blended in a fascination that entrances in the coming Pallas picture released on the Paramount Program and to be seen at the West End theatre for three days starting tomorrow.

This story of the burning love of a Spanish maid for a handsome American, stars Lenore Ulrich who is entrancingly beautiful as the high-born Castilian made poor by the unsettled times.

The strong action and many scenes of daily life in this exotic country with its ever present blend of romance and squalor give this strange picture a charm very unusual.

R. A. Braniger will render a solo on his Hawaiian steel guitar.

INTERESTING MEETING

Roosevelt Parent Teacher Association Hears Good Talk On Playgrounds

Roosevelt Parent-Teacher Association held its last meeting of the year yesterday evening in the kindergarten room with a good attendance. The regular business of the association was dispensed with and Prof. J. A. Cranston installed the new officers for the coming year, with an appropriate little talk to each on the importance of the work in hand.

Mrs. W. H. Thomas, new president, gave a good report of the recent state convention held here and was followed by a well rendered piano duet by Misses Gertrude and Helen Carnahan. The principal address of the evening was given by Rev. P. F. Schrock, on "Playground Philosophy." Prof. Cranston endorsed the sentiments of the speaker and short talks were made by Judge W. W. Simon, Mr. Waggoner, Judge W. H. Thomas and the program closed with two piano numbers by Misses Gladys Swarthout and Margaret Hardcastle.

During a pleasant social hour, the committee served cake and fruitade.

Pleasant Farewell Given

A farewell party was given Monday night at the First M. E. church, for Miss Ruth Day and Leslie Day, who will leave Thursday for their home in Minnesota.

Games were played, after which delicious ice cream and wafers were served.

Many wishes for a safe and happy trip and the speedy return of the young people to California concluded the pleasant evening.

Among those present were the Misses Edith Blauer, Marjorie Blauer, Ruth Day, Jane and Laura Jones, Edna and Clara Rounds, Edna Masters, Gladys Davies, Alma Salk, Gladys Neff, Briney, Lydia Fisher, Mrs. Davies and Messrs. Leslie Day, Blauer, Byron and Arland Purington, Nat Rochester, Neal Smith, Wesley Lamb, Donald Jones, Glen Chandler and Harold Yost.

Discontinue Work

The Choral Society has discontinued its work for the summer. The work will probably be taken up again in the fall.

Orpheus Trio Tonight

The Orpheus Concert Trio will give an interesting entertainment this evening at the First Methodist church under the auspices of the Epworth League. A silver offering will be taken at the door.

PHILATHEA SOCIAL

South Methodist Young Folks Royally Entertained At Pulver Home

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Clifford royally entertained the Philathea Class of the Southern Methodist Church last evening at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Pulver. The trip was made from town in automobiles, including the exciting time of having to pull one machine in.

After a short business meeting the evening was spent in a track meet. The interest was very keen and the sides very evenly matched.

At the close of the meet delicious home-made ice cream and cake were served.

Those present were Misses Maud Holland, Lena Holland, Grace Martin, Eva Martin, Mabel Blodgett, Ina Sleeper, Maud Jones, Mary Jones, Vena Jones, Hazel Clark, Minnie Phillips, Carolyn Haughton, Margaret Gallup, Lottie Morris, Nora Morris, Ethel Wright, Mrs. C. B. Pulver, Mr. and Mrs. Will Obarr, Mrs. Haughton and the hosts.

Merry Hearts Embroidery Club

The club was entertained at Tustin on Saturday afternoon of last week. Miss Alice Prather of Tustin being hostess.

The rooms were prettily decorated with baskets of Dorothy Perkins roses. The club met at 2:30 and part of the afternoon was spent with conversation and fancy work.

The club is progressing nicely under the supervision of Miss Ella Davis. A musical program was given, opened by Miss Alice Prather, with two well-rendered selections. Several other numbers were given by members of the club and guests.

Later refreshments of brick ice cream and cake were served, the color scheme being carried out.

Besides the hostess, the members present were the Misses Helen Menges, Vivienne Burge, Anna Grace McElree, Bernice Hanning and Miss Davis.

Guests of the club were the Misses Josephine Wagner, Irene Smith, Marjorie and Leona Cranston and Louise Artz. The children were driven to and from the Prather home by Miss Edna Burge.

AT HOME

Polytechnic High School Students Will Show Their Work Tomorrow

Polytechnic high school with its group of three magnificent buildings, will be thrown open to the public tomorrow. In other words, there will be a big "at home" there all day tomorrow and tomorrow evening.

Both inside and out, the big school has preened itself for the throngs of visitors expected to see what teachers and students have accomplished in their various lines of industry. The broad walks are smooth and well kept and as one winds in and out between the stretches of beautiful lawn, cut and trimmed by the gardener, the lovely carpet of green stretching all the way from one building to another, the thought is bound to come, "how fortunate are the young folks privileged to pursue their studies surrounded by such a setting."

Sewing, Cooking, Art Work
In order to give the patrons and friends of the school an opportunity to know something of what is to be shown tomorrow and where, a Register representative was permitted to see some of the exhibits yesterday.

This exhibit is placed, as usual, in the domestic science department in the head of the stairs is found the arts and crafts display and much of the work done by these students is almost professional.

In one case is seen a magnificent hammered brass tray, various designs of beautiful plates and jewelry of all kinds, including rings and la valieres. In another case is seen the leather work and an artistic pocketbook attracts the eye.

Basketry is an attractive study and baskets are shown in all shapes and sizes. Clay modelling is an attractive subject and some of the pupils show most marked talent. Some beautiful specimens of stencil work were admired.

Drawings in Hall
The wide hall was lined with fine specimens of the charcoal work, conventional landscapes, Mother Goose rhymes illustrated in charming manner, attractive posters, monograms, pose work, drawing of casts, borders and commercial art work. The visitor could spend a day in examining this work, which shows the painstaking care of the efficient teachers in leading their charges from the work laid out for the beginners to the more intricate work of the seniors. Misses Boyle and Fifeled have charge of this department.

Domestic Art
Going down the hall, Miss Whited was found arranging the work of the sewing department. Miss Whited is the head of the domestic science and art departments and has a vast amount of information to impart, which is of vast importance. Economy in the home is of the greatest importance, in this day of high cost of living and the young students are made to see the reasons for this from the very beginning of their work.

A chart is arranged on the wall, the circle being arranged to show the percentages scheduled for an income of from $800 to $1000 a year. Thirty per cent is set apart for food, twenty for rent or shelter, ten for light and fuel, fifteen for clothing and twenty-five for miscellaneous, including savings.

Miss Fitz, who has charge of the beginners, has arranged a system of cards, holding samples of all goods used by the workers. These samples have been tested as to washing and fading qualities, wear, etc., and will be passed along to the incoming class to aid them in their selections.

Only One Hour a Day

The amount of work done by the students is remarkable, considering that they have but a one-hour period a day. One of the advanced classes has earned $70 as a result of the labors of the pupils, as they will sew by the day or take work home. A great deal of work has been done for charity, including garments for the Day Nursery, the Associated Charities and the Salvation Army.

Many of the senior girls have made lovely little graduation gowns, dresses to wear at baccalaureate and other dresses for various occasions. The dearest kind of a little gown was made by one senior for a younger sister graduating from the intermediate, which showed loving thought and kindness. A very pretty luncheon set has just been completed for the model department, each girl making a dolly. The students are also taught the important feature of "making over."

Tomorrow at 8:30 p. m. some of the students in this department will give illustrated talks on cotton, homes, industries in the home and costumes.

Cooked Food Sale

The girls of the cooking department have decided to show what they can do and what they have learned in a material way, by selling cooked food tomorrow. The teachers will send in their orders in advance. Miss Weld has charge of this department.

Model Apartment

The model apartment has come to be one of the most useful spots in the polytechnic and is used for various little "feels" and meetings of clubs. The housekeepers are allowed a dollar a week each with which to provide luncheons, usually for their mothers of fathers. The apartment is the pink of neatness and the girls are taught everything necessary about good housekeeping. Since Christmas several new things have been made for the apartments, including curtains, bedspreads, dresser scarf and cushion, all harmonizing in color effect. New portieres were also made.

All Departments Open Tomorrow
All departments in the school will be open tomorrow from 8:30 in the morning and during the evening. The regular classes will also receive visitors to listen to their work.

There is a large display of manual training work, under the supervision of Mr. Weeks. The boys have made nearly all the furniture in the model apartment and many other articles for their own use and for sale.

Auction Bridge Club

Mrs. C. V. Davis of North Broadway was hostess yesterday afternoon to the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge Club, the prizes being won by Mrs. L. A. Collier and Mrs. Addie Collins, who substituted for Mrs. W. A. Huff.

Dry Forces Progressing

Mrs. Belle Rogers, who is a member of the Southern California Dry Campaign Federation Committee, attended a meeting of the committee in Los Angeles on Monday. The "dry" forces are shaping up the work and the reports show that it is now fairly launched and the system that is to be worked out in this campaign greatly exceeds that of two years ago, and $105,000 has been pledged up to the present time, half of which has been collected and spent.

There will be some splendid speakers in the field from now on and others are being employed to work for California Dry. Dr. Bartlett has several illustrated lectures ready at any time he is called on. "Dynamite" Adams has just been employed by the Federation and he will do his excellent street work until after the election. Efforts are being made to make

The Happy Hours Club

A lawn party for this club was given at the home of Mrs. Arthur Humphrey of 1027 South Main street, Tuesday afternoon.

The young ladies of the Happy Hours Club enjoyed fancy work of various kinds. Later a guessing game was given out. Mrs. J. Tillotson and Mrs. Harry Warner winning first prize, two lovely bottles of perfume. The consolation was awarded to Mrs. Gay and Mrs. Spangler. After this all adjourned to the living room, where they were served with orange salad, cakes and punch.

Those enjoying the pleasant afternoon were Mesdames J. Tillotson, E. E. Wild, V. E. Blodgett, E. T. Brannan, Roy Spangler, Bert Clement, F. Gay, Eugene Riss, Walter Sutton, Harry Warner, Minnie Bertha Belt, Mabel Blodgett, Minnie Wild, Mildred Cook and Minnie Phillips.

Woodmen Memorial Day

The annual memorial day of the Modern Woodmen of America was observed on June 4th with fitting ceremonies. The members of the M. W. A. and Royal Neighbors met at the hall and marched to M. E. Church, South, where they were given a cordial welcome.

The church was decorated in the lodge colors, red, white and green, and white carnations and ferns being artistically used by the ladies of the church.

The pastor, Rev. A. T. O'Rear, preached an excellent sermon and special music was rendered by the choir. The Woodmen greatly appreciated the services.

The afternoon was spent in decorating the graves of departed brethren at the cemetery. Venerable Counsel Sweet having charge of the exercises. An abundance of beautiful flowers was used to adorn the last resting places of the departed.

HOUSEHOLD SHOWER

Miss Hattie Anderson, Dr. Doty, Surprised Last Evening At Jolly Affair

One of the most delightful affairs in social circles this week was the surprise shower given on Monday evening by Miss Ruth Inwood at her home on Spurgeon street, the "victims" being Miss Hattie Anderson and Dr. Charles Doty, whose wedding day is set for the latter part of June.

The honored young people had been bidden to a rook party, while the other guests were told that the function was a household shower.

The first part of the evening was passed in playing rook, the interesting game being followed with the service of a delicious three-course supper. The prettily-appointed board was lined down its center with a miniature roadway, one end being paved with rice and the other with rose petals. An auto journeyed down this pathway, driven by a jaunty chauffeur and with a bride and groom in the tonneau. It was well loaded with suit cases, and covered with rice.

The place cards for the gentlemen bore little slippers and for the ladies, little brides. The favors were tiny suitcases and traveling cases filled with salted peanuts. Cards tied to these designated in rhymes the station at which each guest was to alight. A three-course menu was served.

As Miss Anderson and Dr. Doty arose from the table they were presented with a bunch of paper keys on a ring and told to visit the various rooms, where they found a multitude of handsome and serviceable articles to adorn their new home.

Those present were Misses Hattie Anderson, Thelma Price, Fernie Smith, Ursula and Irma Lee; Messrs. Randall Patton, Jack Robinson, Jesse Rose, Emmett Hayes and Harry Brown.

WOMAN'S CLUB

Paper on "Cleanliness," and Round Table Interesting Features Yesterday

The regular meeting of the Woman's Club was held yesterday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. P. L. Tople, on South Main street. Roll call was responded to by short talks on "How to Keep Well."

The next meeting of the club will be held on June 13 at the president's home, at which time Mrs. Charles S. Shaw will read a paper on "Industrial and Social Conditions." Mrs. Shaw especially requests that the reading of her paper be followed by a general discussion.

At the close of the business session, Mrs. Geo. Whidden conducted a "round table" and also read a very interesting paper on "Cleanliness—Moral, Mental and Physical."

Farewell to Niece
Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Evans entertained with a delightfully informal evening yesterday in honor of their niece, Miss Mary Worley, one of the teachers at Newport Beach, whose school closes this week, and who leaves for her home in San Jose. She will return in the fall.

The guests were all Newport people, members of the board and teachers. The living room was attractive with its huge clusters of waxen Marchal Neil roses and the time was enjoyably passed with whist.

At 10 o'clock a bounteous supper was served, the table and dining rooms decorations being effectively carried out with red roses.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lott, Mr. and Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Wilson, Miss Edna Gannon and Miss Worley.

Mexicans Asking $564.85 of Woman Who Owns Eucalyptus Grove at G. G.

Back of an action brought at the courthouse today by Benito and Jesus Valenzuela against Clara A. Turton of Los Angeles, owner of a big eucalyptus grove at Garden Grove, lies a complication of facts that may result in other suits.

The plaintiffs, represented by Attorney Trujillo of San Bernardino, are asking for judgment for $564.85. They allege that they took a contract to cut eighty acres of eucalyptus at $2.50 a cord, $2 a cord to be paid each Saturday night, fifty cents a cord to be held in reserve until the job was done. Recently the contract was brought to a sudden end by the woman who owns the grove, for she discovered that about 500 cords of wood still on the ground were short length, and the total cordage was about fifteen per cent short of what appeared to be the total.

The Mexicans are now suing for the

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

NAMED AGAIN UPON COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD

Getting Ready to Condemn Right of Way For Road In the Santa Ana Canyon

This morning the Board of Supervisors filled two vacancies upon the county board of education, caused by the ending of terms, by reappointing J. J. Zellan of Santa Ana and S. R. Fitz of Garden Grove.

Notice calling attention to the fact that the supervisors will sit as a county board of equalization from the first Monday of July to the third Monday was ordered published.

June 20 was set as the time for receiving bids for furnishing juice for the Tustin street lights. The Edison contract is now out. It was ordered that the $15,000 bonds of the Lower joint school district, which lies partly in Los Angeles county, be sold in Los Angeles on June 26.

Truck is Bought

Upon bids received, the supervisors purchased a ton and a half Moreland truck for $1775.

The petition of Fred Eckhoff for a new road in West Orange was granted.

Several petitions have been received for abandoning portions of roads that are not now in use, due to the straightening of roads in the building of pavement.

May Have to Condemn

Laying the foundation for procedure in a condemnation suit if necessary, a petition was filed by County Surveyor McBride for a highway across Dr. Beebe's land in the Santa Ana canyon.

This is the road that is to avoid the river bank at Sulphur Slide. No agreement has been reached with the Anaheim physician as to a right of way. J. L. McBride, W. A. Phillips and Robert Paulus have been appointed viewers of the road under the petition filed for the opening of the road.

Given Decree of Divorce

Mrs. Florence Gustlin was this afternoon given an interlocutory decree of divorce from Walter Gustlin by Judge Thomas, sitting in Department One of the Superior Court.

Mrs. Gustlin resides at Balboa, where her husband also resided up to a few months ago. The divorce was secured on grounds of cruelty. Mr. Gustlin is supposed to be in Honolulu.

Mrs. Gustlin is conducting the Tugery at Balboa, which was formerly conducted by her husband. H. C. Head represented the plaintiff. Gustlin was not represented in court.

Suit for Hospital Fees

The Anaheim Sanitarium Corporation filed suit this afternoon to recover $422.70 from Carl Jungkeit and Mollie Jungkeit, alleged to be a balance due for services rendered and supplies furnished the defendants.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

SECOND FISHERMAN ARRESTED IN THE NET STEALING CASE

Yesterday afternoon Constable Coleman arrested John Brenot of Laguna Beach in connection with the theft of three nets and a number of buoys and anchors from F. F. Thorpe. John Derkum of Laguna was arrested previously, and Brenot, who has been fishing with Derkum, was taken into custody soon afterward. He gave bail.

Found Not Guilty
William McCordie was found not guilty of a battery charge brought by Roswell Jacques. From the evidence, the judge concluded that Roswell started a rough house and when it ended in anger he was thrown on the ground.

BRUNTON APPOINTED PRINCIPAL AT ORANGE

ORANGE, June 7.—Delbert Brunton, former principal of Fullerton Union High School, Monday night was elected principal of Orange Union High School, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Principal G. I. Johnstone. Brunton was picked from among nearly fifty applicants for the position, his election taking place when the trustees met at the home of R. W. Jones in El Modena.

The election of Brunton occasioned considerable surprise as it was not generally known that he was in the field. He has been principal at Fullerton for nine years and has been largely instrumental in building that institution up to its present fine standard. This year he was the center of an attack by a faction which gained control of the school board and caused his resignation. A determined fight was made by the student body of Fullerton to have him reinstated.

This will not be Brunton's first experience as principal of Orange High. Before going to Fullerton he was principal here and was universally liked and respected.

Governor Carlson of Colorado, speaking of Hall & Summers, said, "They managed the Colorado dry fight and won against terrific odds." They speak at the First Baptist Church Friday evening.

OPENING GUN OF DRY CAMPAIGN IS FRIDAY

While there has been a huge amount of hard work already done in Orange county in organizing for the California dry fight, the real opening gun of the educational campaign that is to be carried on will be fired next Friday evening at the First Methodist church.

The feature for the evening will be the celebrated debate between Hall and Summers, two ex-saloon men. In dialogue, these two men bring to the surface scores of telling points in the anti-liquor crusade. Their wit is said to be irresistible.

THE GRINNELL "LEWIS" ELECTRIC WASHER DOES YOUR WASHING FOR ONE CENT AN HOUR

One cent an hour for current for washing and wringing. Sometimes it costs even less. And the Grinnell "Lewis" really washes. It doesn't merely bunch the clothes up in a heap. Its backward and forward motion mixes the suds and clothes far more thoroughly than you ever could by hand. The result is a clean, white, sweet-smelling washing. And you don't need to hand-rub a stitch afterward.

It can't harm your finest laces; for dasher and walls are perfectly smooth. It's easy to use; just insert the plug into your electric light socket, turn the switch, and there you are. The motor hums merrily and the washing is started. You don't need to touch it until it is ready to wring. Then simply switch the power to the ball-bearing wringer and wring your thickest pieces with perfect ease.
